Letter from Canyon City

CANYON CITY, April 1, 1866

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We are all anxiously awaiting the news of the Union Convention at Corvallis. Our delegates, we doubt not, will give a good account of themselves by presenting a strong ticket and a strong platform. The Union men of Grant county expect to elect their entire ticket on the first Monday of June, and they desire such a triumph in the State as well as the county, as shall secure not only good, sound, capable men in all public places but good, sound political principles in the party. They expect a platform that shall commit their candidates to an unconditional endorsement of free principles and an unflinching opposition to every form of Copperheadism, whether it come in the shape of Democratic resolutions or Democratic veto messages. If we are to be called upon to vote for men to fill offices which are of vital importance to the interests of the whole country, we ask first that they be required to pledge their undivided support to those sacred principles for which the patriotic people of the United States have just paid so high a price in blood. It would not be just to the fathers and mothers, the sisters, the widows and orphans of our four hundred thousand dead patriots for us to fritter away the glorious boon they purchased with their lives. Those bereaved ones have a right to claim at the hands of their leaders, the full fruits of that victory which is the price of their bereavement. They have a right to expect, that their rulers shall not permit the blood of their loved ones to enrich Southern soil, merely to secure a vigorous second growth to the nefarious institution that caused this blood to flow.

A race, moreover, that bared its breast to the storm of shot and shell on hundreds of battle fields, in consideration of a pledge from the nation that it should henceforth be free from the galling chains of slavery, has a right to expect, and does expect that consideration to be honestly paid—that solemn pledge to be performed in letter and in spirit. They did not suppose a bond so deliberately executed by the nation, and whose conditions have been so faithfully fulfilled by themselves, was to have its seal argued off by the democratic twaddle of an intoxicated individual elected to the Presidency of the nation by J. Wilkes Booth. And if this is to be done, the Union men of this section of our young State, want to have no hand in the disgraceful transaction.

If we are to be defeated, let us die fighting ; if we are to win the battle, as I have no doubt we shall, let us have such a victory as will [illegible] to us all the fruits of victory. RAFFAELLE.

Letter from Elk City.

ELK CITY, March 17th, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

That season of the year is now fast approaching when the transient mining population are making up their minds as to which of the several mining camps it is most expedient to visit for the purpose of trying their fortunes during the coming mining season, and to the end that they may be able to do so intelligently and advantageously, it is necessary that all should be heard; and whilst your estimable paper contains [illegible] notices of the [illegible] by [illegible] we are [illegible] to observe anything from the Elk City mining [illegible]. Now why is this? Is it because our mines are worthless and undeserving of notice, or because we who are here are desirous of playing the "dog in the manger." Now, I [illegible] the impression that is abroad and generally accepted as truth concerning our mines, is not of the most flattering nature. This impression, obtained during the first mining [illegible] of this place, when the [illegible] and gulches [illegible] being [illegible], the results of which would go far to justify and [illegible] the existing unfavorable opinion. But the [illegible] and gulches in a manner—have long since been abandoned and the miners have with one [illegible] turned their attention to [illegible] of the hills, which have in every case yielded satisfactory returns, while some have proven rich beyond all expectation. Every hill in this camp as yet tested, [illegible] to have been the bed of a lake or the [illegible] of a river—which of the two, it is not [illegible] known, but suffice for the miner to know, there is plenty of gold in the [illegible] to pay largely for working (say from ten to twenty-five dollars a day to the hand), either with hydraulic pipe or for drifting. Those hills are full of water, held within them by high rim rock, and hence it is necessary to run tunnels to work them through. Tunnels that are completed vary in length from two hundred to six hundred feet. The last statement is made for the benefit of those who may come here for the purpose of mining, may know upon what to depend, and not [illegible] anything for first three or six [illegible] labor. Wages are uniformly six dollars per day.

This camp is yet in its infancy, and there is no basin in the northern country that offers so great inducements to the prospector as this. It is but due to the merchants of this place to say that they are kind, courteous and obliging, trusting without [illegible] those who are "hard up," if they can make it appear that they are engaged [illegible] a hill claim, knowing full well the hills are good for the pay. G. E.

State Items

The Democracy got up a ratification meeting at the Dalles the other night, but from all we can learn the affair was about as weak as the ticket they ratified.

Mr Leech, Superintendent of the Eagle Woolen Mills at Brownsville, informs us that the machinery which arrived by the Montana is all of the very latest and best patterns and has, accompanying, all the latest improvements for the manufacture of wool into the finest styles of woolen goods. The mill will be ready to start two full setts of machinery by the first of June.

The recently elected officers of Eugene City corporation, are: Councilmen, John L. Luckey, W W. Bristow, and E. Mulholland ; Recorder, Capt Rice , Treasurer, Bell Jennings ; Marshall, B C Hutchinson.

The State Journal of the 7th inst. says a Christian or Campbellite church was organized at Eugene City on the 25th ult, and that the meeting then begun was protracted till the 4th inst , resulting in an accession of fifty-one members, twenty-one of them by baptism.

We learn that in nearly all sections of the county, the farmers are putting in spring crops more extensively than usual. We hear estimates of crops this year which exceed anything of former years.

We published on Saturday, an item in relation to the mysterious disappearance of a Mr. Shelly of Lane county. His name is Avery Shelly , he is 22 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches in hight, light complexioned and rather slim of build. Information of him will be thankfully received by his wife Rosanna Shelly, or by David Taylor, Spring field, Lane county.

The Mountaineer says the lowest bids received on Saturday by the Quartermaster for transportation were seven cents from Dalles to Camp Watson and fourteen cents to camps Wright and Curry.

SELLING OUT AT COST —The Mountaineer of Saturday gets off the following:

Yesterday when the steamer arrived the returning Democratic delegation brought with them a large white flag on which was painted in staring black letters "J. K. Kelly for Governor" and which was stuck up before a well known place in town. Shortly after a stranger passing looked up at it and remarked, "Selling out at cost to close business."

Kelly is "old clo' " though —worn threadbare in 1858 and clean through in 1864—he wont bring anywhere near first cost. "Jones" himself can't brush him up into saleable shape.

For Sale.

That it Might be Fulfilled

Issachar is a strong ass, couching down between two burdens.—Genesis, c49, v14

When the end of Jacob the patriarch drew nigh, and he felt the cold hand of death upon him, he gathered his sons around him and gave them his blessing. As he spake to each he added a sentence descriptive of his character and his future fate or condition. To his son Issachar he spoke the words of our text; and from that day to this, the simile has sufficed to signify the strong, stupid, good natured man who bears the burdens of designing and knavish friends.

To-day there is a group on the so-called Democratic ticket which fills the picture most appropriately and to a dot. Nothing either of light or shade is wanting. The "strong ass" Issachar, is the Democratic candidate for Governor, and the two burdens are the O'Fay and the O'Meara. Nothing but the pencil of Hogarth could do justice to the subject, but we shall make the attempt.

At the foot of a long hill in the valley of "great expectations," we can see Kelly, broad-backed, strong-limbed, good-natured and withal a little stupid; while hanging upon either side of his galled back are the "two burdens," O'Fay and O'Meara, smirking and chuckling to each other at the prospect of being borne up the devious Democratic trail to the offices of Congressman and Public Printer.

The patient Issachar, true to his nature and destiny, toils and trudges up the steep ascent, amid the jeers and sneers of the bystanders, sinking to the books in the miry clay as he is goaded on by his selfish and worthless "burdens," who care not how it fares with the "strong ass" so he but brings them to the top of the hill on the first Monday in June. But they are doomed to disappointment. No Issachar can be found stupid or strong enough to bear up two such characterless adventurers as O'Fay and O'Meara. Indeed Kelly has tried it with O'M[eara] alone ever since 1858, and the single "burden" has always been too [heavy] for him.

We care not for the "two bur[dens]," but we are sorry for our Issachar. However the fitness of things has forced us to speak of Col. Kelly's position, we do not mean him unkindly or intend to detract from his real worth. If he will be the Issachar of the Democratic party we cannot help it if we would; but we warn him that he is now "couching down" between two of the heaviest "burdens" that ever ass did bear.

Insulted by their Praise.

The tenth resolution of the Democratic State platform expresses a sentiment which, for that party, is entirely new. We allude to the following:

Resolved, That we will ever hold in grateful memory those through whose patriotic ... the dignity of the R... life and the integrity of the Union were p... ...

So then, notwithstanding the many declarations of the Copperhead side, while the conflict lasted that the object of the war was not the pre[serv]ation of the Union, they now, a year after the termination of the contest, are compelled to acknowledge that such was its object, and that that object was attained. How does the resolution from which we have quoted above consist with the following from the last annual message of that truly Democratic functionary, James Buchanan:

The fact is, that our Union rests upon public opinion, and can never be cemented by the blood of its citizens shed in civil war. If it cannot live in the affections of the people, it must perish. Congress p... many means of p... [hav]ing it by conciliation; but the sword was not ... in their hands to pr... it by force.

The conduct of the Democratic party during the whole period of the rebellion was inspired by a sentiment similar to that thus expressed in the language of their last President. Pretending to believe that the Union could not be maintained by war, they opposed every measure that contemplated the employment of force for the suppression of the rebellion. For years our patriotic soldiers—the same whom the Oregon Democracy are now trying to befoul with the slime of disingenuous praise—were stigmatized with all the opprobious names in the poltroon's calendar. None of us but who recollect how such choice Democratic epithets as "Hessians," "Lincoln's dogs," "hirelings of despotism," &c., were freely applied to those who were defending the nation's life and honor against the assaults of perjured traitors. The Democracy do no doubt, feel truly grateful for the results of the war whose progress they tried to arrest by resisting drafts, raising riots, sending emissaries to Richmond to divulge the plans of the Government, and inviting the rebels into the North to carry out the work of devastation. Of course the profound gratitude they profess for those patriotic soldiers whose every defeat they used to celebrate with rejoicings, must be very sincere.

Democrats have been brought to discover that their former contumelious treatment of the soldier must be exchanged for at least an appearance of civility. But their hollow professions of gratitude cannot prevail with the country's defenders. "Get thee behind me, Satan," would be the exclamation of the veteran soldier to the Democrat, were there not a reasonable apprehension that the Democratic brave would seize the opportunity to deal his admired soldier friend an unseen blow the moment he could get within his guard. The soldier of the Union will consider the false and constrained promise of Democrats, still more contemptible than their flouts and jeers, and gibes were once thought to be. The praise of a Copperhead Convention is an insult to the true soldier.

PARTIALLY RECOVERED.—The Herald was so demoralized by the unexpected result of the Democratic State Convention, that it was unable for two or three days to muster up enough assurance and fortitude to place the ticket at the head of the usual column. The nomination of O'Meara for State Printer was a stunner for the Herald. It did not recover until after the repose of Sunday. On Monday morning, after indulging in a column of grumbling over the ticket, the names of the candidates were placed at the head of the paper.

Mr Hubbard of Washington Territory informs us that Mr. A. J. Miller, the proprietor of the old mills below Olympia, has gone to lower Chehalis near Gray's Harbor for the purpose of putting up a steam saw mill. There are a considerable number of settlers on the lower Chehalis, and room and good farms for many more. Mr Miller's enterprise will supply a hitherto embarrassing want.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO APRIL 9.

Continuation of Doolittle's Remarks on the Civil Rights Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The bill contains propositions upon which the ablest men in whom we had undoubted confidence differ. He wished the bill could be placed again in charge of the judiciary committee, and that the committee should frame one which would avoid the questions raised in this body and the other House. He was desirous of preserving amicable relations between Congress and the Executive. He little said he had relied ... ing him that the Legislature of his State had passed a resolution requesting him to vote for the Civil Rights Bill—the President's objections thereto not withstanding. He had already set forth his objections to the measure and he could not vote for it and would abide by the consequences. He entertained the highest respect for the gentlemen composing the Legislature of his State, but standing where he did, he saw what they ... not. They were at a distance and influenced by a party press and persons interested in the continuation of disorder in the South.

Proceedings in the House.

The House met for a call upon committees for reports of a private character acted upon a large number of pension calls and afterwards Brooks, of New York, spoke to empty benches in defense of his claim to a seat. All interest centered in the Senate to-day. After Brooks concluded his speech Raymond, of New York, advocated the claims of ... Dodge, and Dawes of Massachusetts concluded the debate. Meanwhile the members rallied from the Senate, and a vote was taken declaring Brooks not entitled to the seat: ayes 84, noes, 35. A vote was taken declaring Wm E Dodge entitled to the seat. Dodge appeared and was sworn in. To-morrow is set for general debate in the House. The Civil Rights Bill will be taken up probably on Monday, 9th.

The Test Oath

The President sent a message to Congress to-day, recommending a modification of the test oath.

Secretary McCulloch and Postmaster General Dennison also sent communications to the Senate asking such modification as will enable them to appoint persons in the South. They say several persons are now acting under appointment who cannot take the oath, and therefore no salaries are paid them.

The Passage of the Civil Rights Bill.

CHICAGO, April 6.—A special dispatch to the Tribune just received, says: The Civil Rights Bill passed the Senate at 6.30 o'clock, by 33 ayes to 15 noes. Dixon of Connecticut, was absent. Morgan, of New York, and Willey, of West Virginia, voted aye. Wright, of New Jersey, voted no. Morgan's vote was received with cheers, and the final announcement of the result, with wild enthusiasm. The chamber was densely crowded. The following is the vote:

Ayes—Messrs Anthony, of Rhode Island; Brown, of Missouri; Chandler, of Michigan; Clark, of New Hampshire; Conness, of California; Cragin, of New Hampshire; Creswell, of Maryland; Edmunds, of Vermont; Fessenden, of Maine; Foster, of Connecticut; Grimes, of Iowa; Harris, of New York; Henderson, of Missouri; Howard, of Michigan; Howe, of Wisconsin; Kirkwood of Iowa; Lane, of Indiana; Morgan, of New York; Morrill, of Maine; Nye, of Nevada; Poland, of Vermont; Pomeroy, of Kansas; Ramsey, of Minnesota; Sherman, of Ohio; Sprague, of Rhode Island; Stewart, of Nevada; Sumner, of Massachusetts; Trumbull, of Illinois; Wade, of Ohio; Willey, of West Virginia; Williams, of Oregon; Wilson, of Massachusetts and Yates, of Illinois, 33.

Noes—Messrs Buckalew of Pennsylvania; Cowan of Pennsylvania; Davis of Kentucky; Doolittle of Wisconsin; Guthrie of Kentucky; Lane of Kansas; Hendricks of Indiana; Johnson of Maryland; McDougall of California; Nesmith of Oregon; Norton of Minnesota; Riddle of Delaware; Saulsbury of Delaware; Van Winkle of West Virginia; Wright of New Jersey—15. Absent, Mr Dixon of Connecticut. The above vote shows the same total as on the 19th of February. Creswell and Grimes who did not then vote, and Edwards, the new Senator, making good the loss of Dixon, absent, and Foot, deceased. Of the negative vote on the 10th of February, all were present now except Stockton. The accessions are Doolittle of Wisconsin, Johnson of Maryland, and Wright of New Jersey, who did not vote before, and Lane of Kansas. This bill passed the House on the 13th of March, ayes 111, nays 38, absent or not voting 34. It is believed it will be taken up at once in the House and passed over the veto.

Exciting Scene in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6th.—The special dispatch to the Chicago morning papers, gives a few additional particulars of the Senate proceedings yesterday. The Tribune says that during Lane's speech, Mr. Trumbull cornered him on a private declaration made the day before that he (Lane) would vote for the bill; asked if it should be understood that his vote was now given in consideration of something. Lane's answer was listened to with much interest. He was very careful not to deny the suggestion and the Senate was left to believe that Lane had found reasons within eighteen hours to change his purpose. There is, of course, considerable inquiry as to the means used to effect this change. During his speech, Mr. Trumbull and Mr. Henderson worried him seriously with questions, and brought out the point very clearly that Mr. Lincoln never, by word or deed, indicated the belief that the Executive could dictate a plan of re-construction.

Garrett Davis then spoke two hours and a half, notwithstanding the impatience for a vote.

Mr Saulsbury followed in a brief and furious speech. He had opposed the war, and could see nothing in the future but blood.

By this time the floor of the Senate was crowded with members of the House and other privileged spectators, filling the whole area around the Senatorial circle. It was now half past five o'clock.

Mr. McDougall made a speech, predicting another revolution.

Mr. Yates urged the Republicans to stand solid, and press on to victory.

At half past six o'clock the vote was called, and the Clerks proceeded with busy pencils, tallying the result. Mr Morgan responded "aye" in a clear voice, and all doubt was removed instantly. The spectators rose in the galleries, and made the Senate chamber ring with applause. On the floor it was but little less exciting. Several Senators rushed forward and congratulated Mr Morgan, as did the members of the press. On went the roll. Mr. Wright, who had appeared in the chamber for a few minutes in the early part of the day, and had then retired to a committee room, was now supported to his seat by his friends. The result was then announced by the acting Vice President, Mr. Foster, of Connecticut, and a perfect storm of applause followed. Handkerchiefs were waved, hats were lifted, with cheers and shouts such as the members of the Senate never heard before. This scene was of long continuance, and during it, the opposition gathered up their hats and retired, leaving Judge Trumbull to move the usual order for informing the House of the action of the Senate, and the friends of the bill to adjourn until Monday.

A Fi... will ... to Reduced Taxation.

The committee on ways and means will report an internal revenue bill next week on the basis of reducing taxation $50,000,000. In making the reduction the committee has as much as possible made exemptions of raw material entering into general consumption.

Secretary McCulloch on the Test Oath.

Secretary McCulloch, in a letter accompanying the President's message, recommending a modification of the test oath, says: When the appointments were made it was difficult to find competent officers in many of the Southern revolutionary districts who could take the oath, but so important did it seem to the P[resi]dent and cabinet for the purpose of equalizing the public burdens, that the revenue should be established throughout the late rebellious States with as little delay as possible, and that the unpleasant duty of collecting taxes from an exhausted and rebellious people should be performed by their own citizens, that the Secretary of the T[reas]ury did not hesitate to [recom]mend for appointment persons of whose personality there was no question, but who might either willingly or unwillingly, during the progress of the rebellion, have been so connected with the insurgents and the Confederate Government as to be unable to take the oath of office. No one could have regretted more than the President and Cabinet the necessity which existed for this course, but there seemed to be no alternative and it was confidently hoped that under the circumstances of the case, it would be approved by Congress.

The Postmaster General says the test oath has been the greatest hindrance to his duties, and suggests that the word "... ...rily" be inserted in the oath. This would enlarge the class of persons who could qualify, and would be in harmony with the general provisions and purposes of the oath. He says it may be interesting to know that of 2,289 mail routes in operation in the disloyal States at the breaking out of the rebellion, only 751 have been restored, and out of 893 post offices in those States, only 204 appointments of postmasters have been made. Of the whole, 177 only have been qualified for office being males, and 43 being females.

Destitution at the South

CHICAGO, April 9th.—Much suffering and destitution is reported in Georgia and Alabama. Gov. ... has issued a proclamation calling on ... the people will starve. The Huntsville (Ala.) Independent says several cases of actual starvation have occurred in that county and publishes a statement of the Probate Judge of Marshall county that a careful census shows that there are 2180 persons, whites and blacks, absolutely helpless from age sickness or infirmity and families, representing in all 2,000 persons, are dependent for their living upon work but unable to earn it and are living off the residue of the people. In Marshall ... there were not more than twenty with means more than adequate for their wants.

Doolittle to be Asked to Resign.

The Wisconsin Senate last Saturday instructed its committee on Federal Relations to report a resolution requesting Senator Doolittle to resign.

The Tennessee Legislature.

NASHVILLE, April 8th.—The Tennessee Legislature assembles to-morrow with a radical majority of six members, being four more than a working quorum. The radical caucus voted to refer all credentials, and admit only those elected as new members and exclude holders that are re-elected on ground that latter ... pledge to bolt again, and are therefore in rebellion against the State government. Exciting questions will therefore claim the immediate attention of the House.

The Difference.

We affirm as the creed of our faith and practice, opposition to the centralization of power and the supremacy of the civil over the military power.—Copperhead State Platform

Under a pretense of military necessity, the Constitution has been disregarded in every part.—Chicago Platform

Democrats put themselves on the record after this fashion, and yet support Johnson in his re-organization and re-establishment of State governments in the South, avowedly under the large authority vested in him by the military power! Johnson has claimed no other authority to act in this matter except such as military power confers on him. Would Democrats applaud him for thus exercising the military authority which he claims is vested in him, if that authority were employed in re-establishing loyal instead of rebel State Governments? How they did hound after our great and good Lincoln because he tried to establish loyal Governments in the revolted States! But now when Johnson wants to turn the Governments of those States over to traitors, Democrats can easily see how the military power gives him authority to do it. It is all right to employ the military against loyal men, but unconstitutional to use the military power against traitors.

RALLY OF THE JONESES.—The Herald says there is to be a "Democratic Rally" at Lafayette, on the 14th inst. J. S. Smith, who was defeated in the State Convention because he had not "seen Jones," and John Henry Smith, who has seen Jones, are to address the "Rally." The Jones family will be there, and at 12 o'clock at night will rally again in their dark lantern hole, to plot against the Union and to curse the luck which sent Gen. Lee into retirement and Jeff. Davis to a felon's prison.

PHOTOGRAPHICAL.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, Proprietors of the CARDWELL GALLERY, 89 First Street, announce that they are fully prepared to meet the increasing demand for their FIRST CLASS PICTURES. Their CARTES DE VISITE are inimitable and beyond competition. ap9dtf

WHEREAS, an Information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 4th day of April, A D 1866, by J N Dolph, Esq, District Attorney on behalf of the United States against "Twenty-two Boxes of Cigars" alleging in substance that on or about the 10th day of February, A D 1866, in the City of Portland in said District, the Cigars aforesaid were sold and passed out of the hands of the manufacturer without having stamps denoting the tax thereon so affixed, that the boxes could not be opened without effacing or destroying the said stamps, against the form of the statute in such cases made and provided, and praying process against said Cigars, that the same may be declared forfeited, and that notice be given to all persons claiming the same to appear and show cause on the return day of said process why such forfeiture should not be decreed;

Now, therefore in pursuance of the warrant, under the seal of said Court to me directed and delivered, I hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said Twenty two boxes of Cigars, or in any way interested therein that they be and appear before the said District Court, to be held in the City of Portland, in said District, on Monday, the 7th day of May, A. Our City Foundries.—In proportion to the other branches of manufacturing in this State there is a great excess in the working of iron—and, strange as it appears with the many beds of valuable iron ore lying in the immediate vicinity of this city all the iron used in this foundries is imported. The city of Portland ten years ago had but two iron foundries. That of Mr. Monastes and that on Oak street, now operated by Messrs. Ferry & Crain. The Oregon Iron Works last year began the construction of their buildings on block 170 which is now nearly covered with shops, etc., for the entire 200 feet square. Later, the Willamette Iron Works was established and today have a splendid business on the river front, foot of Dubois. In looking about these various branches of an important trade, we find that an aggregate capital of at least $250,000 is engaged and that about 250 persons are ... with employment, that may be added to the ... permanent residents of the city. The work turned out at these four established places of business is by no means inferior to that produced elsewhere on the Pacific coast; we may say that it is generally superior to any imported. A few hours spent among the works beginning at the Willamette Company's superintended by Mr. John Nation, formerly of the Oregon Iron Works, then at the Oak street Foundry, and then at the Portland Foundry of Mr. Monastes, and so on to the Oregon Iron Works, will be sufficient to convince any person ... if he wants machinery, that he is liable to go farther and fare worse than here. The ... company have lately turned out some beautiful machinery for quartz mills at they... and are now ... on a number of orders. The Oregon Iron Works yesterday shipped the boiler for the fine engine finished last week for Messrs. ..., Patty & Co. of Salem. Very True.—The Vancouver Register referring to the Herald's first ... of the Columbia county resolutions, uses the following language which, though severe, is strictly true:

And when the editor of the Herald says we knew that the resolution was a misprint, we only reply that we did not know any such thing. We know that it was exactly like the Democracy of Columbia county to pass such a resolution. We know that they endorsed Jeff Davis all through the rebellion. We know that they endorsed the rebellion, exulted in its successes, and gloated over any defeat the forces of the Union ever suffered. We know that one of the great lights of the Democracy of Columbia county was several weeks imprisoned for hurrahing at the assassination of President Lincoln. In short, we know that the Democracy of Columbia county, and are really surprised that they did not pass such a resolution, and can only account for it by the fact that the illustrious prototype of their Democracy is slightly in need of a little reconstruction. We spoke of the Democracy of Columbia county as hurrahing for Jeff Davis, and we repeat, to the editor of the Herald, or to any other man, that they did hurrah for him; and the Herald knows full well that the Democracy of the nation were, and are to this day in sympathy with him. Who did howl for Jeff. Davis? Did Union men? Didn't anybody? Isn't every "ex Johnny reb" in Oregon a Democrat? If that is making "no very complimentary remarks" it is simply because the truth don't "compliment" the Herald's party.

The Herald of yesterday appears with an appeal to Democrats to support the conservative President—Johnson. It makes little difference now what position the Herald may take. It is a "dead duck" since O'Meara slaughtered it in the "Jones" convention the other day. O'Meara is the ... of the Democratic party in Oregon, and if he don't go the whole hog for Johnson, the ammunition of the Herald fired in that direction won't bag anything.

For Coughs and Throat Disorders, use "Brown's Bronchial Troches" having proved their efficacy by a test of many years.

"I have never changed my mind respecting them from the first, excepting to think yet better of that which I began thinking well of."

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Health—"But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the Stomach, and sustain
The Nerves, the servants of the brain
The Liver keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the inner man,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"Hostetter's Bitters," we reply,
Is Health's supreme protection—try.

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if so 'twill be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the surest antidote.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy sites, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore armed with

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind—
Agues that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom,
Colics and dysenteric pains
Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those ... ills
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury
Slow constipation and decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though unnatural nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
Hostetter's Bitters—medicine sure
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from causal or inherent weakness of the body the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

To want ... ,
From P... to ... strand;
To ... in rigid mean ...,
And ... in great cities toil;
To soldiers in camp ... and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, ... ,
And tillers of wet marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged and old,
To those in health who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion or any weight in medical testimony, this is the best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy gentle stimulant is required.

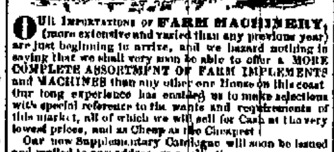

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Brazil

ITS TOPOGRAPHY AND STATISTICS

The empire of Brazil is very nearly as extensive in superficial area as all the rest of South America possessing as it does nearly four millions of square miles of territory The face of the country presents a great variety Near the coast it is mountainous The principal ridge is called the Brazilian Andes The interior of the country is principally a vast forest, except in the centre there is a sandy plain, three hundred miles in extent from east to west which rises into lofty chains of mountains, from whence those rivers proceed which flow into the Amazon and La Plata Besides these great rivers which rise in Brazil this country is watered by the Rio Negro, Rio Madeira, Chingu, Tocoantius, Parana, Aragua and other numerous streams some of which are tributary to the two large rivers first named The country is celebrated for its fertility and beauty, and produces in abundance all the colonial productions of the Western Hemisphere with Brazil and other woods Cattle of various kinds abound, with deer and other game The mineral productions are gold silver, diamonds, emeralds, crystals and other precious stones

The population of the empire is estimated at about nine millions. The principal cities are Rio Janeiro, the capital, Tauuaria, Dramantina, Porto Alegre San Salvador, Porto Seguro, &c The revenue of the empire in 1862 was $20,293,910, and the expenditures $20,585,560 The public debt is $96,863,125. The imports of the State amounted in 1861–2 to $61,889,030, and the exports to $67,952 626 The standing army musters fourteen thousand men "The navy is composed of forty three ships in active service, mounting two hundred and fifty guns, and manned by six hundred and eighty nine officers and two thousand eight hundred men

HISTORY.

Brazil was discovered by the Portuguese in 1500, and though occasionally in the hands of the English and Dutch, it remained a colony of Portugal until 1822. In 1808, John VI., then Prince Regent of Portugal, fled from his country before the invasion of Napoleon, and emigrated with his family to Brazil, where he was in 1815 crowned monarch of the united kingdom of Portugal, Brazil and Algarve In 1812 John VI returned to Portugal and assumed the crown of that kingdom, at the same time appointing his son Don Pedro, Regent of Brazil. In the year following the Brazilians, provoked by oppressive acts of the Portuguese Cortes, rebelled, declared their independence and made Don Pedro Emperor under the title of Pedro I. This monarch reigned until 1831, when he abdicated (April 7) in favor of his son Pedro, then a child of five years. A regency was appointed by the Brazilians to conduct the government. Pedro II, the present Emperor, was born December 2, 1825, and was crowned emperor in In 1841, though he had ascended the throne a year before. Under his spirited management the country was materially advanced in prosperity.

The Emperor married in 1843 the Princess Theresa Christian Maria, daughter of Francis I., King of the Two Sicilies, by whom he has two childrens, both daughters. In 1843 a sister of the Emperor married the Prince de Joinville, who was in this country during the first years of the late war.

THE GOVERNMENT.

The empire is divided into twenty provinces — The government is a constitutional monarchy. The General Assembly is composed of two provincial electors for life, and the Chamber of Deputies, to which members are elected by the same provincial electors every four years. To each province there is a Legislative Assembly chosen by electors. The Presidents of the provinces are appointed by the Emperor.

ROMAN LAWYERS AND THEIR FEES.—The bar with us is one of the great forces of society, and opens a road to affluence and to political success But the old Roman lawyers seem to have had some advantages over their modern brethren, to judge by an article in the British Quarterly:

At first the Roman pleaders received no remuneration beyond the services which every client owed to his patron. Subsequently, when law had become a difficult science, it became the practice for clients to reward their advocates by making them presents, which (to evade the Cincian law passed to prevent this) were often disguised as secret loans. Before the fall of the republic those fees equaled in magnitude the largest fees known in modern times. Even Cicero, who was regarded as a model of disinterestedness, is said to have received from Publius Sylla, about $40,000 as a fee for his forensic services. In modern times many large fortunes have been made at the bar, but, we imagine, none to be compared with that of M. Licinius Crassus, whose fortune is said to have exceeded $15,000,000. One mode of rewarding advocates, by legacies left to them by their clients, appears to have been a source of considerable profit, and was esteemed highly creditable to the legatee. Cicero boasted that in this way he had received twenty millions of sesterces, more than $800,000. We fear that clients in our days are not so liberal in their last wills and testaments.

In fact, during the best days of Rome, success at the bar was the great introduction to popularity, distinction and political power. No wonder then, that the art of eloquence was greatly cultivated and with so much success. Probably no age has produced a band of more eloquent men than Cicero and his cotemporaries of the Roman bar. Nor were the bar of the late Empire distinguished only for oratory; many of them were men of enlarged erudition, of literary taste, and of varied acquirements. Varo, "the most learned of the Romans," Quintilian, Suetonius, Pliny and Tacitus were all advocates; and the volumes of Cicero still bear testimony to his versatility and power in almost every department of literature. Under the emperors the eloquence of the Roman bar had greatly declined, as all that is manly and great must decline and wither with the loss of freedom. Moreover, the treatment of the bar was not always such as to encourage much mental vigor. Lord Mackenzie relates that one day Gallicus was pleading before the Emperor Claudius near the banks of the river Tiber, when the advocate, having irritated the Emperor, was by his orders thrown into the river. Some days after a client of Gallicus brought his case to Afer, the most celebrated advocate of the age, and requested him to plead it before the Emperor. "Who told you," said Afer, "that I was a better swimmer than Gallicus?"

OUTRAGES ON NEGROES.—The Provost-Marshal of freedmen at Mobile, Alabama, publishes a letter in reference to outrages upon the colored people, and the attempt of the rebel papers to represent them as committed by United States troops. He says:

"For the past four months the average number of cases coming before the Bureau was about 450 per week of which about one-fifth were for assault, robbery, murder, and attempt to murder.

"Such criminal badges are almost universally the acts of citizens In fact, during all this time, but few cases have come before the Bureau, in which white soldiers were the aggressors in such charges. The habits and prejudices against the colored race, resulting as a consequence of slavery, seem, in the white people of this district, to have been rendered more cruel and extreme by the emancipation of the slaves.

The statement is official, and cannot be questioned, but is appalling Here are nearly seven thousand cases in four months, before the Freedmen's Bureau, in a single State, of which about fourteen hundred are cases of assault, robbery and murder. That would be over four thousand in a year. Yet Alabama is reckoned one of the least turbulent of the rebel States. What must be the condition of the negroes in the other States? What will be their fate when the Freedmen's Bureau is abolished, and the negroes are consigned—as the President wishes to consign them—to the unchecked fury of their old masters?—New York Tribune.

THE HEAVIEST OF ALL MAMMOTH BULLOCKS.—Walter B. Dean, Factory Point, (Vt.) writes us under date of February 12th that he has a bull which has attained a greater weight than any of the mammoth bullocks reported When two years and eleven months old he weighed 3,000 pounds, Last Christmas he was five years and eight months old, and then weighed 4,240 pounds, and is still growing. If there is no mistake in this statement he is undoubtedly the biggest bullock ever produced, and has already attained a weight which was thought five years ago to be utterly impossible Indeed, the public would now like to see unquestionable certificates of this most wonderful weight.—N Y Tribune

The following is what the New York Evening Post, heretofore one of Johnson's most devoted admirers, says about his maudlin speech of February 22d

"For the shocking and unseemly imputation Mr Johnson chose to bring against Messrs Stevens, Sumner and others opposed to his policy, that 'their intention was to invite assassination,' we trust that he will make haste to apologize, not merely to them, but to the country, which he has most grievously insulted Such words as he uttered on that head would not be tolerated in the basest stump speech They are too ill judged and imputative for us to think or write patiently about them, and we count it no slight misfortune to the nation that its chief magistrate should have spoken in this style"

The Union members of the Ohio Legislature unanimously indorse the action of Congress on the Freedmen's Bureau bill, and condemn the President for vetoing it One Ohio Unionist indorses the President True the office he holds is a high one, but we think he pays too much for it. He will think so too ere long

The Smith Murder Case

The following is the substance of the testimony in the case of the State of Oregon vs. Thomas Smith, as given by the Albany Journal

The first witness called for the prosecution was Rhoda Ann Smith (a daughter of the deceased 18 years old) Said she was in the house with her father and mother and the prisoner when the prisoner said, Well this will not do me and went out of the door and she soon returned to the door and saw the prisoner opened the door and the pistol and saw her father fall; her face being toward her father she saw him fall but did not see the prisoner shoot but on turning round she saw him shoot her mother her mother ran past the prisoner, who was at the door, and ran to the orchard; in a few moments the prisoner ran or walked fast and overtook her mother and brought her back, she appeared to come back to the group of children in the yard willingly the prisoner having hold of her hand according to the children she said to the witness stay by me appeared exhausted by the loss of blood and said to Laura (a daughter of 10 years) "go and see if your father is dead;" just at this time the prisoner pulled mother into the meat house and shut the door, when her cries ceased Witness did the fall struck her father in the forehead On cross examination, witness said she had stated to different persons that Sidney Smith (the father) killed his wife and then killed himself she also said that prisoner told her so that she was afraid of him and said it through fear

Next witness was Laura (a daughter 10 years old)

Defendant's Attorney asked her if she knew the nature of an oath

She said "Yes to tell the truth"

Well what will become of you if you don't tell the truth

"They will send me to the penitentiary"

Anything else

Yes, if I don't tell the truth I can't go where God is"

Appearing quite intelligent the Court allowed her to be sworn She said when the prisoner led her mother back from the orchard her mother told her to go and see if her father was dead and when she returned she saw the prisoner taking her mother into the meat house and that her cries ceased Said she found her father not dead but shot in the forehead

Next witness, James Cunningham—Says he rode up and saw two horses hitched, but saw no one moving went to the door and knocked or was in the act of knocking as it opened and prisoner came to the door, telling with great horror that Sydney had killed his wife and then killed himself; witness then said "let us alarm the neighbors" prisoner said "No, stop, I want to talk with you" holding on to his hand; Sydney Smith was lying on his back, not dead but shot through the forehead, Mrs Smith was in the meat-house, dead

The above are the principal facts proved There was, of course, a great deal more, such as descriptions of the wounds on the bodies Mrs. Barbary Smith had received a bullet wound in the breast, and had her throat cut, also severe cuts on her face and hands One witness stated that when he first arrived, Sidney Smith was not dead, that he rolled him over, and said to Thomas Smith, the prisoner, that there was no powder burn on his face, and asked him where the pistol was, he then went to inform the neighbors, and on coming back a pistol was found under the deceased; the prisoner having been about the house all this time

The real motive is not known fully, but is believed to have been money Deceased returned from the mines with considerable money, which is missing A great deal of circumstantial evidence was given, all tending to the inculpation of the prisoner, and the two pistol shots in quick succession, and the cries of the mother as described by the first witness. The whole facts of the case were few and simple, with nothing to exculpate the terrible guilt of the prisoner. He made a great effort to put on indifference, though at times broke down a little The prisoner is a small man, with a bad physiognomy, a man that made some pretensions to religion, and was a member of the Methodist church The deep sensation created by the evidence of this case can be but feebly expressed by words The orphan children deprived of their parents by the hand of a brother and uncle, for the mere purpose of robbing them of the hard earnings of their parents, is an exhibition of human nature in one of its most abhorrent features

Idaho News.

We clip the the following items from the Ruby City Avalanche of the 24th ult.:

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Captain Sprague, commanding, Oregon Volunteers at Camp Alvord, gave us a call Thursday evening He says the Indians are smelling around the camp nearly every night, but that they have made no attempts lately to steal, around that place. Says he has stationed so many men at different points toward Pueblo, on the Chico road, that it leaves him but troops sufficient to guard his quarters Our Chico neighbors will make a note of this. Alvord is unfortunately off any of the overland routes, and is no better calculated to find and hurt Indians in consequence.

PROSPECTING

Every pleasant day War Eagle Mountain is dotted with prospectors Shafts are being sunk and cuts run for ledges. We are not advised as to any particular strikes, but hear that several very promising ledges have been found. One on the south side of Wade's Gulch is said to be very rich

MILLS COMING

We hear it stated authoritatively that several mills of various capacities are to be erected here during the coming Summer. This is good news to owners of ledges, if they will only use the advantages If owners of ledges will get out one hundred tons of rock and give it to a mill to crush, and it proves valuable, their fortunes are made immediately That much rock—no matter how rich—is a mere nothing from a ledge, and would scarcely be missed. The cost of taking it out is small, while it develops the mine and places a value upon it. We believe the Lincoln mill stands ready to test rock on these or more favorable terms, and guarantee correct returns. We also believe this company are ready to buy and pay liberally for paying ledges There are at least one hundred ledges in Carson and French Districts, any one of which might be sold for its real value by spending a few hundred dollars in the way indicated

A SAW MILL ON JORDAN CREEK.

We understand that a couple of these institutions are in course of construction a short distance below Ruby, on the Jordan. A large water wheel is spoken of in connection, which indicates an extensive business—or attempt—in that line As things progress and promise success, we may know more about it.

FREIGHTING ON THE CHICO.

We have private advices that freighting is commencing in earnest at Chico Captain Walker is from this on, going into the Indian business along the Owyhee, and freighters can expect protection

The following items are from the Statesman of the 29th ult.:

A TALK WITH THE INDIANS.—Major Marshall, Mr. J M Kirkpatrick and Governor Lyon, started yesterday for the Bruneau, to have a "talk" with the Indians up there Both the first named gentlemen are practical men, and have had experience in the management of Indians and are sure to accomplish all that can be accomplished in respect to the object of their visit.

A COUNTERFEITER RELEASED

Thos. Murray, who has been committed in the county jail for the last eighteen months, charged with passing counterfeit gold dust, was, last Tuesday, brought before Judge Flournoy on habeas corpus, and released on the ground of insufficiency of the warrant of commitment

FARMING PROSPECTS OF ONEIDA COUNTY

A letter writer from Oneida county says: "We are happily located in a rich and fertile valley, watered by the beautiful Malad, which heads away up among the snow-clad hills that divide the waters of the Great Basin and Columbia and pays tribute to Beaver River and Great Salt Lake.

Although this settlement has been founded scarcely eighteen months, great progress has been made in cultivating the soil. Fine crops were raised last year, and as farming facilities have increased, larger ones are anticipated the ... Situated on the great thoroughfare from Utah to Montana and either place being of easy access, we can always find a ready market for our produce. Freighters to Montana depend upon us to supply them with hay, grain, vegetables, and provisions of all kinds, as we can do it at little cost, and save them from hauling from Salt Lake, one hundred miles distant."

Great Union Meeting in Chicago.

One of the largest meetings ever held in Chicago came off February 26th, to take into consideration the conduct of the President in vetoing the Freedmen's Bureau bill and his singular speech in front of the White House. It was addressed by Lieut. Governor Bross, Congressman Larned and Major Stevens. At the conclusion, the following resolutions, reported by Judge Gray, on behalf of the committee, were read amid great applause, and were unanimously adopted

Resolved, That no policy or plan of reconstruction for bringing the rebel States into their former practical relations with the Union ought to be approved, or will be satisfactory, which is not founded upon the principles of right and justice; which does not recognize practically the organic principles of the Declaration of Independence and of the Constitution as designed by its framers, which does not recognize and take account of the guilt and crime of treason in all its forms and securely guarantee against its possible repetition

Resolved, That we approve and sustain Congress in refusing to admit into its seats the recently accredited Senators and Representatives of the late rebel States whose votes would defeat any amendment of the Constitution of the existing unjust, unequal and oppressive basis of representation, prevent guarantees to the freedmen of the South which a nation's faith has pledged to them might secure an assumption of the rebel debt and a repudiation of the national debt; and who, together with their allies and sympathizers from the North, might control and shape the legislation of the country in the interests of those who fought on the rebellion and caused us all the horrors of a civil war

Resolved That any attempt on the part of a co-ordinate branch of the Government to dictate directly or influence the judgment of Congress or any member thereof as to admission to its membership, is highly responsible, and ought to be met with firm resistance and with the universal condemnation of the whole people

Resolved That for many anxious months we have watched with doubts and misgivings the course of the President and now with grief and indignation, see that he has left the loyal people who trusted and elected him; has denounced a large part of the patriotic representatives in Congress, has falsified his promise to make treason odious and has dismayed the hearts of those who believe that the interests of the nation are unsafe in the hands of traitors.

Resolved, That the President's harangue to the rumseekers in front of the White House his general behavior on that occasion especially his denunciation of two members of Congress whose loyalty to the Union and freedom is above suspicion must be regarded not only as an affront to an intelligent and liberty loving nation but as an unprecedented and ill boding departure from the dignity and proprieties of a position hitherto universally revered

Resolved That we emphatically condemn the insinuation contained in the rear end of the veto message of the President, and in the body of his speech, that the Executive will coerce his whitewashed rebels into Congress unless the royal representatives of the people shall open the door of the Capitol to them; and we warn the President that while Executive usurpations and coups d'etat have often been successful among people of the Latin race they have always ended in disgraceful discomfiture and sometimes decapitation among Anglo-Saxons Reconstruction of the rebel States can never be accomplished by Presidential bullying of the law-making department of the Government Let Congress do its whole duty fearlessly conscientiously, and the loyal masses who saved the Union will stimulately sustain it

Resolved, That the people of the United States owe not for all time to the soldiers in the field, and to the soldiers ... inexpressible debt of gratitude and ... gallant ... heroism with which they pursued conquered and crushed armed rebellion and that we look to them in peace with the ... in the ... as we trusted them while they held the ... and in ratifying, securing and incorporating in the policy and legislation of the country the fruits and results of their victories in war

WATER WHEELS.
POWER PLEDGED EQUAL
TO THE
Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.

American Double Turbine Water Wheel
IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.
All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical combination. Thus far it has conquered the most violent opposition.
This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.
The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS,
Oregon Iron Works,

THAT OLD GREENBACK CASE!

I am still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec. 17, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.

CITY OF PARIS STORE!
